Two attached houses in need of renovation within the traditional settlement with charming views of the lush surrounding vegetation

The two-level houses are in a picturesque preserved mountainous settlement in the island's center. Both of them need renovation, mostly focused on the left one which requires more work. Both floors have a private entrance, one from the downstairs garden and terrace area and the top floor from the front balcony.

The spacious garden area gives you the possibility to expand the existing properties with additional buildability.

A lovely place if you want to escape from those hectic days and be close to nature and the fresh air.

The property is located few steps further from the local "taverna" which is open seasonally.
